

NZ TELEHEALTH
FORUM & RESOURCE CENTRE

TE AHO
O TE KAHU
CANCER
CONTROL
AGENCY

YOU'RE INVITED TO A
TELEHEALTH WEBINAR:
Using Telehealth for Cancer Care during COVID-19

THURSDAY 27 AUGUST, 7PM TO 8PM

FACILITATOR:
Dr Chris Jackson

Medical Oncologist and Medical Director, New Zealand Cancer Society

Facilitated by Dr Chris Jackson, a panel of experts will share their experiences and thoughts on the benefits and challenges ahead for telehealth in cancer care.

Professor Sabe Sabesan has pioneered several teleoncology models for enhancing rural access to cancer services across Queensland and Australia, in partnership with various stakeholders. Their research led to the development of COSA Practice Guidelines for teleoncology, Queensland Remote Chemotherapy Supervision model and the Australasian Teletrial Model. Currently, Sabe is on the board of COSA, co-chairs the COSA Australian teletrial Consortium and steering committee to roll out the Teletrial Model across Australia.

PANEL MEMBERS

Dr Claire Hardie Radiation Oncologist and Clinical Executive, Cancer Screening, Treatment and Support, MidCentral DHB

Michelle Mako Equity Director, Te Aho o Te Kahu, Cancer Control Agency

Dr Richard Isaacs Medical Oncologist and Head of Medical Oncology at Palmerston North Hospital

Marie Wales Manager of Supportive Care Services for Cancer Society Otago/Southland division

PRESENTER:
Professor Sabe
Sabesan

*Director of Medical Oncology at the Townsville Cancer
Centre, Townsville University Hospital in Queensland*

REGISTRATIONS REQUIRED

Please use the following link:

www.telehealth.org.nz/webinar7